Passengers rose by 28.2% to 26.4m, supported by the Widerøe acquisition completed at the start of the year.

Fuel cost increased by 21.5% to NOK 9.4bn, while the fuel share of costs fell by 5.1 points to 28.0% as revenue rose by 38.3%.

The operating result was held back by the weakening of the Norwegian krone against the US dollar and by external disruptions during the year, with operating profit down 16.1% to NOK 1.9bn.

Collective bargaining agreements concluded during the year raised personnel cost across several markets while reducing the risk of industrial action.
